Automated Payment Systems for Collection Agencies

There are a thousand ways people get into debt, but there's only one way to get out of it. Trouble is, too many simply don't have the discipline to develop or stick with a payment program unless—or until—a plan is imposed by a creditor. That's where debt collection agencies and TotalTransact technology make an ideal partnership. TotalTransact is a leading integrated payment system for debt collection agencies that makes initiating, processing, and managing electronic payments fast, accurate, and assured. TotalTransact is powerful, flexible, cost-effective, and easy to use and administer. Now debt collection agencies of any size can develop, administer, and manage automated payment programs with minimum staff time and maximum effectiveness.

The All-in-One Collection Agency Payment System

Once a debt collection organization becomes involved in the collection process, the matter must be handled quickly, efficiently, and with respect and courtesy. TotalTransact represents the standard for automating your entire payment process, end to end. Once payment arrangements have been negotiated and agreed upon, TotalTransact enables an agency to implement an automated program that ensures the debt will be liquidated with no excuses.

Configurable, Cost-Effective & Comprehensive

TotalTransact integrates a number of features into a fully operational payment processing system that enables managers and staff to administer all forms of contribution processing in a format that is easy to use, flexible, and secure. With TotalTransact, you can start small, using only the essential modules, then grow to serve your expanding donor base without needing to change systems.
